

THE RIGHT TO INFORM AND BE INFORMED

«The right to inform and be informed is the cornerstone of democracy. It is the parent right of the right to individual freedom of expression, exercised, not theoretical.

Not many members of the Earth's parliaments - there are some and they are well known - elected by the people, have fought for this fundamental right of the citizen-state and citizen-state to be exercised, and not persecuted, in this time of endless shamelessness, but this constitutional and human right is being used carte blanche by renowned members of the political class. For them, yes, but not for the people.

The right to inform, the right to freedom of expression, has been the privilege of those who frequently engage in sterile, ideological and unethical diatribes, applauded loudly for their dialectical blows and blows to other pointed fighting cocks of the political class, patiently observed by silent parliamentarians from the seats of the political "henhouse". Bad examples. A "henhouse" where those who rule from the lintel in the shadows, with the help of factual-financial assets, are at ease. They are the same, the same as always, who have been making accounting entries for income earned in bets on one or other political fighting cocks, in such pens of roosters and hens.

Unfortunately.

They are the ones who legislate on the reality perceived with the colour of the lenses of their parliamentary glasses, far from the People, to whom they owe their duty.

What do they know about the People in their day-to-day lives, in the meantime?

Ideas to legislate for the People could come to them from taxi drivers, tavern keepers, farmers, immigrants counting sea miles, those brothers in life who left their land fleeing certain death to meet uncertain death, from those who sell bread behind a counter, from the hairdressers in the villages and poor districts of the cities, from the vagabonds of Nature, philosophers of the painful silence, from those who beat the drums of war...

They are the People and they listen to what the People say.

What has a beginning also has an end.

Which parliamentarians are the voice of those who cannot exercise their right to denounce the violation of their rights and liberties?

They did so in the name of the Sovereign People when they took their seats. Not many of those elected - and there are some - as spokespeople for each and every one of the citizen-States that elected them, raise their voice for those who are truly deprived from the common good, disinherited even from their right to life and health.

The social majority of the Peoples of the so-called First World are the silent spokes of the wheel-State. Well-tensioned and tempered in their jobs, businesses and companies, sweating taxes, they keep the axis of the wheel-State in balance.

The chamber and the casing are the rulers, ministers and parliamentarians, many of them once 'democratic', but not truly democratic. Quite a few of them covered with sheepskins, being 'wolves', well-paid theatre actors for the well-tightened spokes of the wheel-state.

Millions of citizen-States, spokes of the wheel-State of renowned, apparently powerful countries, have been abandoned to their fate, victims of those who came to power covered with sheepskins, being 'wolves'.

The skins and masks have fallen. The fruits and unethical examples show their tyrannical nature. They lost the democratic legitimacy that clothed them until they came to power granted by the citizens-State, now victims of dictators and tyrant rulers, predators of public resources to offer them on a platter to members of the dark society, architects of the Coups d'Etat.

Infiltrated in the Institutions given to themselves by the sovereign People, they sow chaos and death, not only through conventional wars. They took over the mass media to declare "a war against a Covid", to "legally" fire experimental genetic projectiles of synthetic mRNA against the genetic heritage of the demographic generations of the People, using with deceit and fraud the weapon at hand: a PCR, an ineffective test, unauthorised, and "de-listed", finally, by some Centres created to Control and Prevent Diseases, a test that does not detect the covid-19 that provoked the entering into "war" with such a virus, but that, after about two years of "war" it came to be known that, such a virus, "presented as a weapon of mass destruction of Humanity", (recalling the lie of the weapons of mass destruction-war against Iraq) was not really and physically known to the World Health Organisation, nor to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, nor to the Ministries of Health of the pandemic governments, nor did they have cultures of the coronavirus.

But PCR proved to be an effective weapon to "legally" attack health with synthetic mRNA, lives, and the genetic heritage of DNA - genetically massacred by synthetic mRNA - as well as the subsistence resources of the citizen-States, the foundations, as political, social and demographic subjects, of each State.

The States, as social units of organised coexistence inspired by God, the Infinite, in ancient times, have been destroyed again and again throughout human history by 'them' through their instruments. [consult the newspaper archives]. The same as always, who once again attack the States, decimating the demographic foundations of the States, leading to the holocaust of death and new, irreversible diseases, hundreds of millions of State-citizens: healthy children, young people, pregnant women, adults and the elderly, without having informed them before massively "vaccinating" them of the adverse effects, including death, and the new diseases that the experimental genetic products, which were not and are not vaccines, produce and will produce in their bodies.

The once healthy people could not decide for themselves whether or not to inject themselves with such experimental gene products, called synthetic mRNAs, used by certain rulers to attack their God-given genetic heritage of their original DNA. The right to inform and to be informed has been violated by those who should have protected and safeguarded it.

Nothing will remain hidden. No stone shall be left upon a stone. No crime shall go unpublicised. No weak person's tears shall go unwiped. No arms dealer or arms merchant shall go unpunished for weapons sent for others to kill their fellows.

There would have been no "pandemic" - aggravating the economic and social crisis - with ethical governments, independent and free television, radio and press networks, without the investment funds of international elites injecting capital into the mainstream media, but with renowned scientists, Nobel Prize winners, virologists, doctors and biologists reporting through the media. It has not been possible for these citizen-states to exercise their right to inform their fellow citizens, because the rulers, who should not have usurped the role of doctors, should have safeguarded the right to freedom of expression and the right to freely receive truthful information through any media.

They have violated the right to inform and to be informed, the cornerstone of Democracy, which has been assassinated in certain States with 'parliamentary' systems.

We are exercising the right to inform citizens and citizens-State, exercising the right to freedom of expression.

Meanwhile, the frames of this civilisation's ship continue to creak, also overloaded with the innumerable millstones, ropes and name tags of those who cause scandal after scandal. Their multitudinous followers, intoxicated, hypnotised and seduced, cheering and applauding, do not see that the ship is sinking, inexorably.

The law of cause and effect, with its sea of heavy fruits produced by the infinite causes sown by Humanity throughout the ages, is already pounding and sweeping the deck of the ship of this world.

The ethical remnants of Humanity, who see that the ship of the materialistic world is sinking, are boarding the barges of Light to save themselves from the wreck caused by Darkness.

"The situation is chaotic. What remains to be corrupted? 'Subversive' ethical and moral values survive as maquis in the jungle of the unethical."
