

Chapter 20 of BETWEEN THE ETHER AND EARTH

THE GOLDEN ETHICAL RULE. THE RIGHT TO RESISTANCE

The Golden Rule of Ethics, which is the foundation of Natural Law, has been present as a fundamental rule in all cultures, religions and philosophies of all peoples:

"Do not do unto others what you would not have done unto you".

As a positive action, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" was formulated by the Son of God incarnate in Jesus of Nazareth,

The Golden Ethical Rule of Natural Law, which is the basis of the Commandment of Love, of loving by loving the weak and oppressed who suffer and cannot defend even their right to food, health and life. This is the basis of the right of resistance to oppression, which is recognised for peoples against rulers who, having a legitimate origin, have become illegitimate during their term of office. This is happening in certain countries around the world.

This right was included in the Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen of the French Revolution.

The bad examples and the attacks of the president of France, of Italy, of the USA, of Austria, Canada, Australia, of the chief minister of the Land of Hesse (Germany), governors and politicians of Germany, the president of a certain autonomy and politicians of Spain, the media, and a long etcetera, are well known and widely documented... against the rights and liberties of millions of citizens, oppression and coercion with the loss of jobs and salaries, persecution, stigmatisation and defamation, public, and social ostracism of those who are not vaccinated, who fight peacefully for their liberties, health and life, by abuse of the power given to the rulers by the people, turned into tyranny, to force them to allow themselves to be injected with the experimental gene product synthetic mRNA, because the unvaccinated know that they will die and get sick, shortening their life cycle.

(Video with imágenes that muestran residents being held and vaccinated against their will).

It is a sample of the madness, schizophrenia, blindness, individual and collective hypnotism suffered by a great part of Humanity through the complicit media using shameful propaganda and psychology techniques.

Millions of influenced and sleeping zombies, who believe they live awake, will have a sudden and tragic awakening: when the fatal second will come, the great bell of the inexorable law of CAUSE and EFFECT will ring for all of them.